

THE NEW COTTON CROP

now beginning to move, and we are now entering upon another busy season. We wish to thank our many friends and customers for the liberal patronage given us during the last twelve months. The increased sales in all of our many departments, especially Fine Dress Goods and Millinery, show that the people know how to appreciate good, solid values given in return for their money.

Our buyers are now in the Northern markets, where they will use their usual good judgment in selecting the latest styles and best goods suitable for this section. We buy our goods in large lots, thereby securing the best discounts, which enables us to guarantee to meet any competition. We also have a—trade has increased so much in this Department that we are giving it unusual care and attention, and to know that you are getting your goods at the proper figure. Call in and inspect our goods and prices, consisting of anything you want in—

GROCERIES, STAPLE DRY GOODS, SHOES, HATS, ETC.

To the Farmers And Ginners

Will say that our Grocery and Bagging and Ties Department is complete with a large stock, consisting of New Bagging, Old Bagging in patterns or rolls, New Heavy Ties, New Light Ties, whole rebundled, repainted Ties, and old Ties not wanted, and is still advancing. If you wish to contract for our season's supply, or any quantity, call and secure our prices. Just received and on the road several hundred New Wheat Barrels of—

FLOUR.

No adulteration—pure Wheat Flour—very cheap, compared with prices for last few months.

We overstocked on Tobacco of all grades before the war was put on, and for the same reason we bought Coffee very heavily, which escaped the tax, both of which we will give you bargains in.

Our stock of Groceries is complete in every respect.

When you bring your Cotton to Town see us before you leave as we are in the market every day in the year.

When in Town call to see us.

For Bargains watch this space.

Yours truly,

Brown, Osborne & Co.,

The new advertisement of C. F. Jones & Co. speaks for itself, and should be read carefully. These gentlemen have purchased an immense stock for the fall and winter trade, and they will make it to your interest to give them a call.

The Young Men's Business League will meet in the City Hall Friday night at 8:30 o'clock, sharp. The meeting will be addressed by prominent speakers on subjects of interest to every person in Anderson. A full attendance is requested. Ladies invited.

Mr. J. T. Traynum, who lived on the Anderson side of the river at Piedmont, died suddenly and unexpectedly on Saturday, 3rd inst. The deceased was about 60 years of age, and was born and raised in the Slabtown section. He was widely known and was highly esteemed by his friends. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and his remains were interred on Saturday, following his death at Slabtown with the burial rites of that fraternity.

Little Harvey, the 4-month-old son of Mr. Oliver Sheriff, died Sunday, Sept. 4, 1898, and was buried on Monday at 4 o'clock, Rev. N. G. Wright conducting the funeral services. It had been sick only eleven days of pneumonia. The parents have the sympathy of many friends.

At a meeting of the City Council on the night of the 6th inst., it was decided to petition the State Board of Control to annul the beer privilege granted in this city. The petition was forwarded and the privilege has been revoked, to take effect when the present stock on hand is disposed of.

In the advertisement of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Anderson Cotton Mills it was stated that the meeting would be held on Tuesday, September 19th, when it should have been Tuesday, September 20th. The meeting will, therefore, be held next Tuesday, and it should be attended by every stockholder.

Mr. R. Y. H. Nance met with a painful accident at the depot at Pelzer yesterday afternoon. He was leaning against a pair of platform trucks when some movement caused them to roll from under him, causing him to fall heavily and fracturing his arm. We have not learned definitely, but do not think his injuries extend beyond these facts.

Mr. R. D. Kerr, with his family, of Augusta, Ga., has moved to Anderson and opened a harness shop, an advertisement of which appears in another column. He is an experienced workman, and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage. Mrs. Kerr, nee Miss Hattie Heldman, is a native of Anderson, and her old friends are delighted to welcome her back to her old home.

Married, on Sunday, Sept. 4, 1898, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. Smith, Mr. Luther A. Campbell and Miss Hattie L. Smith. The attendants were as follows: Mr. Harrison Barger, best man; Mr. J. H. Kerr, and Mr. R. E. Campbell and Miss Edna Kerr, Rev. N. G. Wright officiating. The happy couple went to Triangle, and after preaching, returned home, where a sumptuous feast was served.

Mr. J. B. Moore returned to Barnwell last Thursday from Anderson, where for several years he was manager of Yates's mammoth shoe establishment. He can be found at Moore's Emporium. Mr. Moore's friends are glad to have him back in Barnwell. If our little bird has informed us correctly, somebody else from Anderson will take up their abode here shortly.—Barnwell Sentinel.

Mr. J. A. Brock, of this city, was highly honored by the American Bankers Convention which was held at Denver, Colorado, August 23, 24 and 25th last. The Convention was one of the largest of the kind ever held. Delegates from every bank in thirty-six States were present. Under the rules of the Convention, every State is entitled to a Vice-President, and this honor was conferred upon Mr. J. A. Brock.

Quartermaster G. C. Sullivan, chief musician Joe Trowbridge, principal musician Samuel Trowbridge, and private Eugene Eskew, all of the Second South Carolina Regiment, arrived home on a brief furlough last week. Quartermaster Sullivan returned to his command Tuesday, and the others returned to-day. They expect to leave Columbia for Jacksonville to-morrow. They report all the men in good health.

Mr. Hilary Masters, who lives five miles south of this city, has lost a fine milk cow since last Sunday by a disease which he calls "red blood." He says he has a book on the diseases of cattle in which "red blood" is put down as a specific disease. He knows of no remedy for the disease. Reports from other sections are to the effect that cattle have been lost by sudden death. Can't some of our stock raisers suggest remedies?

In looking over the exchanges we are enabled to keep posted regarding the material advancement of our sister cities all over the State. Outside of the four large cities in the State there is but one town that is in anyway outstripping Chester, and that is the ambitious, wide awake, progressive little city of Anderson. She took a very important step in the right direction last week by the organization of a Young Men's Business League, the object of which is to bring every legitimate influence to work in building up the business interests, and advertising the advantages and resources of the town.—Chester Bulletin.

The Jewish New Year, known in Hebrew as "Rosh Hashana," begins this year at sunset on the 14th inst. This is a very sacred holiday among Israelites the world over, and is generally observed by all adherents of the Jewish faith; the orthodox observing the two days following and the reformed the two days. The holiday will be observed by the Unitarian Society of this city, who will congregate to offer fervent prayers of thanksgiving. This is followed ten days later by the "Day of Atonement" or "Yom Kippur," the most solemn and sacred day of the Jewish calendar, and observed by them all with fasting and fervent prayers. Their places of business will be closed.

Ensign Louis C. Richardson reached Anderson last Thursday on a brief furlough, and is at the home of his father in Garvin Township. He is in service under Admiral Sampson on the flagship New York, and passed through most of the thrilling scenes of the recent naval battles with the Spanish. He relates many interesting facts concerning the sinking of the Merrimack, scout duty under Moro Castle, the sinking of Cervera's fleet, the havoc wrought by our shells on board the Spanish vessels and many thrilling incidents which may never find their way into history. Ensign Richardson was in eleven engagements off the coast of Cuba, and had many narrow escapes from death; one of which was the bursting of a shell so near him that a man by his side was killed. Among other things, Richardson distinguished himself by volunteering to accompany Hobson to sink the Merrimack, but Admiral Sampson refused to let him go. He will go to Havana with the New York in about six weeks to join Admiral Sampson, who is now there as one of the peace commissioners.

The death of our gallant young friend, J. Scott Murray, which occurred last Saturday morning, has filled the hearts of our people with grief. He was in his 21st year and son of the distinguished Edwards B. Murray deceased. At the first call for volunteers made in this city, Scott was called upon and made a short patriotic speech and was immediately enrolled among the very first to enlist. He was a brave and his determination to serve his country, but attended every meeting held for completing organization and was promptly on hand when the hour for departure for the front arrived. And although he was not given an opportunity to face the enemy in battle, his life has been sacrificed for his country. He was ready for the sternest duties and impatiently awaited the command to go forward into the thickest of the fight. His noble sacrifice will be cherished in the hearts of the people of Anderson, and every drum beat will recall the sad circumstances of his death.

death. Scott was a member of Company C, First South Carolina Regiment, and was stationed with his regiment at Jacksonville, Fla., under General Fitzhugh Lee. A month or more ago he sank under an attack of what was then supposed malarial fever. On Tuesday last he was brought home a very ill man. A physician of this city was called and the case pronounced typhoid fever. Every thing possible was done but the young soldier failed to rally, and quietly passed away last Saturday morning at seven o'clock. The funeral services were held in the Baptist Church Sunday morning, and were conducted by Rev. Charles Manly, after which the remains were laid to rest in Silver Brook Cemetery. The pallbearers were Lawrence Maxwell, Raymond Mattison, John C. Robbins, Capt. G. C. Sullivan, Fred Maxwell and Rhett Parker. The honorary pallbearers were Gen. M. L. Bonham, J. W. Quantlebaum, E. F. Cochran, E. M. Rueker, Jr., T. J. Mauldin and J. L. Tibble. In the funeral procession the house was draped with United States flags, and at the Church and the grave the casket was also draped with flags.
